NOW READY FOR CLIENTS

Law Students of the National University Graduate.

A Large Audience in Attendance Address by Representative James E. Watson-Degrees Conferred by Commissioner Macfarland-Awardof Medals and Prizes

The thirty-first annual commencement of the National University Law School was held last night in the National The atre. After a time-honored custom in the institution, the exercises were in charge of the students and were arranged by the following joint executive committee of the post graduate and senior classes: Clark McKercher, Chairman, James E. West, W. B. Richardson, R. D. Chase, Wilfred Jessup, Harry Coope, John Schrivener, G. T. May, William M. Hatlam, George A. Townsend, jr., E. C. Roots, F. A. Fenning. G. F. Havell, C. H. Brush, T. F. Morgan, A. H. Davison, Dean Swift, E. C. Meredith, F. Holbrook, Lawrence Hufty, Robert

A few minutes after 8 o'clock the Marine Band, which furnished the music, played several selections while the thea-tre was being packed by the friends of

At 8:30 o'clock the members of the facwity, the members of the two graduating classes, and invited guests took their places on the stage. Henry E. Davis, a professor in the institution, presided.

In an address to the graduates Representative James E. Watson of Indiana,

"What nobler theme can engage the thought of man than that of the law—the civil law which you young men have studied? I invite your attention tonight to that mysterious power, like the air, which is all about us, and without which it is impossible for intelligent freemen to exist. Before our eyes open to the light it is our guard. E'er we are aware of its existence it panoplies us with its power. It places no burdens upon us which we are unable to bear, and it lays its hand of restraint upon us so gently that we do not feel its touch. It is with us from the cradle to the grave. It sustains us in peril; it upholds the right and crushes wrong; it seeks ever to equalize the conditions of all men. It strikes down crushes wrong; it seeks ever to equalize the conditions of all men. It strikes down the barriers set up by tyranny in the past and places in the hand of each the goiden sceptre of the free.

"Law, young gentlemen, lies at the foundation of our Government. It is the surest safeguard of freedom. It guarantees to every man absolute equality before the law. In our country it vouchsafes the blood-bought rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happines.

At this point in his address Mr. Waters sketched in rapid lines the growth since the time that the birth of Jesus Christ brought a new idea into human history. This idea, be claimed, was worked est slowly until it appeared in the American revolution. It was seen again at Antistam, Gettysburg, and Appomattox, It inspired Dewey at Manila Bay and polated the guns that thundered at Santiago. In conclusion he said:

"Tours, young gentlemen, is the mission of peace, and you emer an overcrowded profession, with room only at the top, but you have this thought to cheer you on.

procession, with room only at the top, but you have this thought to cheer you on, that in this country, where ignorance is erime and knowledge the wings on which we fly to heaven, it is necessary for many to know the law. I congratulate you on the excellence you have attained in the mobilest of studies."

It had been expected that President Mc-Kinley would be present to confer the de-grees upon the graduating classes, but at the last moment it became necessary for him to decline the invitation, and in a speech of explanation Mr. Davis announced that the data would be restorated by the speech of explanation Mr. Davis announced that the duty would be performed by the President of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, Henry B. F.

In the award of medals the university odd medal for the best post-graduate ex-mination fell to the lot of Wiliam Meade Hallam: the McArthur medal for the best senior examination was awarded to Harri-ma Nesbit, and the faculty medal to John E. Hubbet of the junior class.

RHEUMATISM.

Half the battle in curing disease is in tre ting it at the right time.-

Experience has shown that this is the best period of the year to treat Rheumatism of long standing. The sufferer has the advantage of a natural fresh diet, can everise in the open air, and avoid the ache and pain-starting days of inclement weather. He has no athacks. MUN-YON'S RHEUMATISM CURE is specially efficacions in cases of long standing, and is simply wonderful in working a permanent cure. It gives relief in a few hours, and the cure quickly follows, generally before one vial has been used.

If you have a cold try Manvon's Cold Cure; if you have Brapepsia try his Dynepsia Cure; if you have any Kidney trouble try his Kidney Cure. Hunyon has a specific remedy for most every disease; mostly 25 cents, at all druggists. Manyon's Inhaler cures Catarrh, Grippe, Broschitis, &c. Price, H. (Including all needicines).

If you think you need medical advice write to Prof. Munyon, 1905 Arch Sireet, Philadelphia, Pa., and his attiled specialists upon all diseases will advice you premptly by mail.

DEGREES FOR GRADUATES.

Commencement Day Exercises at the Catholic University. Prepared for the battle of life with the learning acquired in their collegiate course, and equipped with diplomas fresh from the engravers certifying to their efficiency in the department of knowledge to which their efforts had been applied, the graduates of the Catholic University of America yesterday afternoon left their alma mater after impressive ceremonies. The graduating exercises were held in the assembly hall of McMahon Hall before a distinguished assemblage of leading American Church dignitaries, foreign diplomats, representatives of educational institutions, and others of prominence.

The degrees of master of science, master of laws, master of philosophy, bachelor of laws, bachelor of sacred philosophy, civil engineer, and electrical engineer were conferred from the hand of Cardinal Gibbons, who was clad in the magnificent robes of scarlet and adorned with the beretta which indicate his high Church office. As each candidate for degree was presented he dropped to his knees before the Cardinal and kissed the ring that he were. The diploma was then presented to the Cardinal, who in turn presented it to the graduate, accompanied with his

The Cardinal occupied the centre of the stage, and at his right was the Right Rev. Mgr. Conaty, rector of the university. The vice rector, Rev. Dr. Garrigan, sat at the left hand of the Cardinal. On the stage were the Papal Delegate, Archbishop Martinelli Dr. Rocker, and Dr. Marchetti of tinelli, Dr. Rooker, and Dr. Marchetti of the Papal Legation; Bishop Foley of De-troli; the Spanish and Haltian Ministers, Baron Ambrozy of the Austrian Legation; Gerald Lowther, First Secretary of the British Embassy; representatives of the Chinese Legation and the German Embassy, Dr. Charles Clinton Swisher of the Columbian University, Dr. Whitney and Dr. Faust of the Georgetowa University, Rev. Cardinal Gibbons addressed the graduates, congratulating them upon the honors that they had earned, and urged upon them an appreciation of the privileges that they had enjoyed in having been permitted to pursue their studies at the Catholic Uni-

It was an enviable and profitable privilege, because the Catholic University was not like other schools, which were constantly seeking and never at the truth. While they were constantly asking "Where is the truth?" the young men before him could cry out in the fullness of joy, "I have found the truth here; I have found the truth." They had not been taught like other students that there was an irreconcilable difference, an impassable chasm be tween science and revelation. "They are children of the same father," exclaimed the Cardinal. "They are Martha and Mary over again; Martha, science, busy with the affairs of the world; Mary, revelation, kneeling reverently at the feet of her God." In conclusion, he urged the graduates to endeavor to do all in their power to pro-mote science and religion and thus reflect heaver won themselves and your their alma honor upon themselves and upon their alms

At the conclusion of the address made by the Cardinal, occasion was taken to introduce an event that had not been noted in the programme of the exercises. A picture which had been concealed was at this momen tunveiled, revealing a portrait of the late Joseph Banigan, founder of the chair of political economy at the university. Mgr. Conaty rose and, addressing the Cardinal, asked him to accept, as chancellor of the university, the portrait. It was pre-sented by Mrs. James E. Sullivan, of Providence, R. L., a daughter of Mr. Banigan. Mgr. Conaty spoke of the life and character of the subject of the painting, and in closing paid a high tribute to Mr. Bacigan. After the exercises were concluded an mpromptu reception was held by the Cardinal in the corridors of the hall

SMALLWOOD AGAIN IN TROUBLE Pleads Guilty to Three Charges of

Petit Larceny. Isalah Smallwood, colored, who was reently held for the action of the grand jury by Judge Kimball on three charges of housebreaking, was yesterday the de-fendant in the Police Court to three charges of petit larceny preferred by John L. McTee, Naunie Wigginston, and Mollie McTee alleged the larceny of a set of harness, valued at $10; Mrs. Wigginston alleged the larceny of two suits of under-eleching, and Mrs. Oyetern alleged the larceny of thirty yards of dress goods, valued at $15, and a coat valued at $5. Assistant District Attorney Mullowny requested Judge Kimball to impose such sentences as would not interfere with the penken'Hechts' Greater Stores," 513-515 Seventh Street.

"Hechts' Greater Stores." 513-515 Seventh Street.

Stupendous values during today's Hour Sales!

Hechts' "hour sales" create more mercantile furore than any sales we know of. Our patrons look forward to them, correctly anticipating values that cannot be gotten elsewhere. Today's "hour sales" will be a masterpiece of price-cutting. The values will outshine all our previous efforts in volume-and the prices will be comparatively infinitesimal. It's your privilege to pay cash or use our "charge" accommodation.
